Just wondering what other games interest most of the members here. That and trying to spark a little (hopefully) civilized conversation. Currently I'm playing "Devil May Cry" (for the first time) and the original "Soul Reaver" (second time), after having finished "SR 2". The next game I'll buy will probably be "XIII".

I would have played "DMC" a long time ago if I had known how good of a game it is. I'm curious about "HALO", but I can wait because I doubt that I would play MP anyway (that and I don't want to see Icesword anymore after tomorrow... oops, was that uncivilized, oh well ). For now, Renegade still completely satisfies my on-line gaming appetite and as soon as I get my RenAlert CD I'll have even more to chew on

For my PC, well right now I'm sucked into playing "EA's NFL Madden 2004" on PC. I play it online alot. If you're a big Football (American) Fan liek I am you'll get sucked into the online Multiplayer. Not only that you can make your own plays and test them out online. And I have to say, anybody that played me online in Madden 2004 knows that i always plays with the Bears and also knows that my "URLACHER BLITZ DEFENSIVE PLAY" is nothing to MESS with and my own "Explosive 4-9 Offensive play" as I call it is CANNOT be beat.

Also play "EA's MVP Baseball 2003" Online Multiplayer. I have a good record with the Cubs in that one.

I also gotten back to play Starcraft and the Expansion Pack Brood War. I forgot how much i missed playing that game.

For my Nintendo Gamecube, been playing alot of Soul Calibur II. I love playing with Link. Link always been my favorite character since the Nintendo days. I love facing my friends. I always kick their asses.

For PS2, I went back to play Resident Evil. I just love playing that game. Only game that ever scared the shit out of me while playing. Only game I play with the lights on. I also bought Soul Calibur II for PS2. I play that also. getting back to playing SOCOM: Navy SEALs online again. Also went back to playing MGS 2: Sons of Liberty, just to make fun of Raiden.

And for arcade, yes I went back to play arcades at the local arcade. I said to myself, "Well the first videogames I ever played was on arcade cause I never had a home system. Might as well go back to what i used to play." I always play this Sniper arcade game called Silent Scope EX. One bad ass game to play. I never use the Scope when i play. Just aim and shoot. Get head shots like crazy. Then I play other shooting arcade games like Time Crisis 2, Time Crisis 3, and Crisis Zone. Then play some Fighting games like Street Fighter and Tekken against the Japanese players at the arcade (They spend all damn day there).

Thats pretty much it. Now I'm off to the Arcade to see how I fair again.

I recently bought Jedi Knight 3 for PC, and I'm playing through that. The ROTK PC Demo has also taken hold of me due to my LOTR fanaticism.

I got a good deal on Amped for XBox, too, which I had never played before (although it's not new). So, I've been playing that in my idle time.

Might work as a teenager, to bad you get at points later on were everybody is busy at different times.

Playing right now, Settlers of catan ( board game on pc),Wolfenstein: ET, Renalert, Jedi Knight outcast 2, UT 2003. I'm at the moment also completly hooked on Minesweeper (yes the standard windows game), best time on expert 194 sec, thats an average of a 1 mine every 2 sec.

I have two jobs, a daily workout, and a girlfriend, frankly I'm surprised I have time to game at all.
:listen:

When I am not playing Renegade, I like to play Neverwinter Nights, Hollywood Mogul, and downloading old games I used to play when I was a kid from <http://www.the-underdogs.org/>.

I have a soft spot in my heart for well written games, even if the graphics are from a Commodore64. The all-text version of Leather Goddess of Phobos? Yeah, I played that.

I used to play that game, but I lost it about seven years ago when I said "I do"

GizbotvasI have a soft spot in my heart for well written games, even if the graphics are from a Commodore64. The all-text version of Leather Goddess of Phobos? Yeah, I played that. I don't know that I could go back to all-text, but I'd like to try some of the early (2D) games I played again sometime. I have fond memories of tolling over a puzzle on "Kings Quest", or trying to make that #@!#@! jump on "Prince of Persia"

WalrusTime splitters2, and Deus Ex. A bit of duke nukem on the gba.

Deus Ex is one of my all time favorites. Right up there with Giants, MSG & MSG2, NOLF, and of course C&C Tiberian Dawn

TaximesThe ROTK PC Demo has also taken hold of me due to my LOTR fanaticism.

I've been wondering if that is going to be any good. I'm a fan myself, and though I got aggravated a lot with The Two Towers on PS2, I did manage to finish it and unlock everything. It was just a little more faster paced than I prefer.

John Shaft Jr.For my PC, well right now I'm sucked into playing "EA's NFL Madden 2004" on PC. Also play "EA's MVP Baseball 2003" Online Multiplayer. I have a good record with the Cubs in that one.

um Warcraft 3, there is no other games that I play... I wish there were less crappier games made, but it appears to simply be out of my control.

C&C sucks now too cause EA sucks, I just want there to be a game as good as C&C1 was, it was so good on so many levels

Krazyfoxx Damn Shaft, I only have to work four days a week and I wouldn't have time to do that much gaming I'm going to go apply to UPS

Damn I wish I have alot of time to play videogames. I'm always busy with work, weightlifting and training. I only get like a hour and a half a day to play videogames. So I just like choose what games I'm going to play every day. Is it going to be arcades for a Hour and a half, PS2 for and hour and a half, gamecube, etc. I just choose which one everyday.

But see I'm on 2 weeks paid vacation now. So I have alot more free time on my hand.

But there is one game I play at work that is fun. Truck racing. Yes its actually what it sounds like. Now kids, do not try this at home. ME and one of my friends on our break time would go, and each get a truck with a trailer attached. And we'll get on the Highway here in Chicago and race the Trucks down the highway. AND ITS REALLY FUN. Especially talking on the radio to other truckers. Hehehehe... Matter of fact I talk to alot of Truckers in Wiscousin.

But I have to say, do not try Truck racing at home. Its VERY dangerous and costs alot of money if you destroy a Truck. I should know. If you're a professional driver like I am and you work for a Multi Billion dollar Corparation that can afford it.

I may install a few more of my games from my collection when my 123 GB hard drive comes. I am only able to have Renegade and Planetside on my 20GB hard drive along with my work and downloads of I start to get low on room. Anyway here are the games I have on my shelf - only the ones in DVD cases - it sucks only being able to have 2 installed at the moment.

Age of Empires 2 Gold Edition

Spec Ops

HomeWorld

Hidden & Dangerous

Unreal

Unreal Tournament

Diablo 2

Max Payne

Tomb Raider Chronicles (Bought if for the Level Editor mainly)

Half Life Generation

Anachronox

Red Alert 2
Red Alert 2 Yuris Revenge
Startopia
Command & Conquer Generals
Black & White
Black & White Creature Isles
Metal Gear Solid 2 Substance (7.5 GB install!)
