Then stop posting on the damn thing and go rot yourself. Damn you fucking twat, we don't want you and most likely most people you know don't want you. Renegade won't die. FFS PSO has been out longer and that is still alive.

Yea its people like you that are making it get less people playing because everyone is under that impression and leaving and saying stupid shit like that get that idea out of your head if everyone thought like you it would be dead now but its not going to die its simply going through some tough times now with the cheats and all but once renguard is released people will come back.

Crimmy, please delete all the spam posts from this thread. Its sad that people would come to it for information on the new features and all they see is Carbon-Lamers whining.

Clanwars community = most skilled community by far = completly gone

Renegade Forums community = Ok skilled community but still suck = crumbling (think how many people posted on the old ww forums compared to people that post on this one.

n00bstories community = n00bist part of the community = starting to fall

The pitts community = Least Skill in the community = Starting to fall

What does that leave? Only newbies

All skill will be gone in 2 months

To my knowledge skill did not a community make strong. Skill just usually means that you don't get many stupid questions or quite stupid people. But skill can make a community hostile. You can hardly play counterstrike without meeting a guy with an ego problem every hour. Renegade seems that much more inviting, at least the last time I played it. Don't go on much as my ping seems high where ever I go. Oddly enough it used to be quite good.

GO away Ice sword, just go away and nver come back. You and Sjeck shouldn't even be here but yet here you are on the RENEGADE FORUMS, saying that renegade is dead. I couldn't even get into the FoD server, Dantes FDS, that 24 p cell server. Aswami or KatieSRV. They were full, thats abotu 100 people and yeat all the 20p and lower servers were mostly full. RENEGADE ISN'T DEAD. Your just lame, go away.

That image has to have been photoshoped more than 100 times. I've seen those exact words placed differently every single damn time.

I'm glad you've seen that more then 100 times. I've seen someone post it and saved it because I liked it. If you even read my read the content topic you would realize that I'm not good with photo things.
