Well the only way to have more blood in ren is to edit the blood emitters and that makes more blood come out when someone is shot.

Thats really all you can do for a more violent experience.

You must have details set high to view blood. Im not sure how high

Open always.dat with xcc mixer or a similar tool.

Find E_Flesh1.w3d and E_Flesh2.w3d

Extract them and edit them and put them in you data folder. They dont have to be in a mod to be used

You might as well extract e_master01.dds too if your going to edit them. They wont show properly without it.

Things can get very messy this way

Yes, please, it looks stupid and annoying to see a whole big text with a picture at the end all quoted, and all that's posted is "LOL".

You don't have to quote a post directly above yours y'know.

p.s. nice blood pic
