What you will need: A Jar, a net, some sewing thread, and a freezer.

1: Take the net and the jar and go outside.

2: Use the net to catch either a dragon fly or a bee and put one into the jar.

3: Put the jar into your freezer with the insect.

4: Wait 3 mins or until it stops moving.

5: When it stops moving take it out and tie the string around the tale of the dragon fly or the abdomen of the bee.

6: then when it wakes up you have an insect on a string!!!

7: then fly it around and when you are done just cut the string short and the bee and or dragon fly is free.

LoL, I read this before but with another idea...

Catch 4,5 flies and put 'em in the freezer. After they 'hybernated' glue/tie them to a plane made out of matches. When they wake up you will have a homemade plane that can actually fly

Bonus: Use strike-anywhere matches and hope they fly towards your enemies house!

P.S. Just kidding of course
