Just a Race which i made up some strange story line for...
Hey i feel im gonna finish this mod... so...

http://www.boomspeed.com/psycoarmy2/temporal_distortion.htm

Note that this is not the site

Hey I enjoy owrking on it, and i beleive it has potential, it may be a bit dif, but then again so am i... My heart beat is twice as fast as a normal heart... Strange huh?

I will move these topics you make into The Silo unless you actually finish SOMETHING.

I am SICK of seeing you start threads about all these "wonderful game modifications" you keep coming up with, only to trash them the next week.

You've been doing this for the entire time you've been on the official forums, especially when Westwood Studios was still alive.

I am giving this one a chance. If I see that no progress is made, every topic you make about a "wonderful new modification" is going into The Silo.

I think it's a good idea, looks interesting, hope you continue it.

ACK, you are meant to be at the same level as all of the members to this forum, meaning you do not have the right to move threads to a locked forum because you dislike the thread. I see no reason for this post to be deleted/moved/locked, it does not violate any of the forum rules.

This is not the first time, you locked a thread where someone was asking for help and you locked it saying read the tutorial post before posting. I then went to my FAQ and found the help he needed and posted it in a new thread for them, which wouldn't have been necessary if the original was unlocked.

Umm, no.

I am not on the "equal side" of this forum. I determine what is appropriate for being posted here now.

Everything is fine BUT: "Flame wars," and the "I have 90,000 ideas for a game modification" threads that PsychoArmy keeps making...

Your creature needs a tail or something, it looks unbalanced. In real life it would fall over...

It looks like a tiberium creature. I guess we'll figure out if it is when we put it in the silo.

He didn't make that thing all by himself. That thing is an Onos from the Natural Selection mod from Half-Life. The only thing he edited was the two front legs. There are none. Looks like he just extracted it and converted it into Renegade.

Well, If this guy does end up releasing this, It's a copyright violation unless he has permission to use the model.

I have no knowlege of this Natural selection, Adavanze gave me this model and I was told it was modeled by him.

Stick Death xtreme had some major issues and The midget alien thing was lost with hundreds of other files I lost. This is not my computer So things can get whiped without my knowlegde.

Read what he said before you rage like that. He said that he has never played Half-Life before. He said his friend gave him that model. So that means his friend stole it, not him.
