Three of my closest friends got their deployment orders today. They are going to relieve the front lines in Iraq. Oh boy. My friends go off to die, and for what? Because MAYBE, there is a SLIGHT CHANCE that something Saddam is doing could get into terrorist hands. Well, NEWS FLASH, but if a criminal wants a gun bad enough he can get it. The same goes for chemical and biological agents. Look at the anthrax in the US. A simple reading of the anarchists cookbook can tell a terrorist everything he needs. Not hard to get what you need to make mustard gas. or VX Nerve gas. Goodbye my friends. I will miss you.

STFU. You have no idea what you're talking about. I wish your friends the best. I hope their battle skills are better than their skills in selecting friends.

Carl. You are right. My comment, even though I had the winky smiley to indicate I was joking, was a bit out of line. I have been pleasantly surprised thusfar at the lack of personal attacks and flames in this forum, I should have set a better example.

As for your "refuse to fight" comment. I doubt you would do that if you were in the army!

You already wrote your friend off as dead. Some friend you are. You have no faith in your buddies skills and will to survive. He joined the military knowing the risks.

Sure you can say that you are worried about him/her, but don't write them off. So to answer you: Yes it makes you a bad friend.

Nothing in war is for certain , especially life and death.

A section 8 is a sorry, pathetic, cheesy, and generally a wuss way out for whiny kids who joined and couldn't hack it. Of all the section 8's I've met, only one was legitimately nutso. The rest were kids like you. It's just as dishonorable as Big Chicken Dinner's or BCD'S. (bad conduct discharges)

I spy alot of mental retardation here. It's amazing...you're all making fun of Carl for having emotions about his friends. If you found out one of your friends had cancer...and had a 10% chance of dying...sure it's not much...but it's enough.

I dont even know any of the people over there...but when I hear about innocent people dying...or the troops themselves dying for that matter...I get close to the verge of tears. I'll be the first to admit that I care too much about people...but it's the way I am and I wouldn't change it for the world. So what if Carls upset because his close friends are going into an extremely dangerous situation? Isn't he entitled to be upset about that?

No, wrong again.

No one is making fun of him for having emotions :rolleyes: . He said his friends are going off to die, and when confronted about that statement, he tries insulting/flaming others, not really mature. Add to that, his last reply is flaming everyone on a discussion that ended a few posts up, before his previous reply.

And there's a difference between going on duty in a war, and cancer. You could have all the skill, intelligence, etc. in the world, and it won't save you from dying from cancer. I'm sorry to see that you think they're the same.

Lol dumbass...

I never said anything about them not being able to save themselves, I never said anything about if they die that they didn't have the necessary skills, I never said that being KIA meant that they're bad. Learn how to read dumbass.

You really think going on duty is even close to being similar to having cancer? Generally there is no cure to cancer, which means there is almost no way to avoid death.

Commando no. 448 You honestly shouldn't have to put up with this and it is probably adding to your pain and maybe headaches.

Let's get something straight. Carl doesn't have to come here, I'm sure Carl is a big boy who much like everyone else has a brain in his head. And with this brain in Carls head he decides makes the decision to come here, to this forum, to this thread, read the message, click the reply button and sometimes fly off (otherwise known as emotional outburst). So please, dont make Carl the victim when he is the one coming, sharing, interacting, returning and posting again and again [etc]. Because that quote right there is making me sick. You share so much about your 'personal beliefs' that you do not realize Commando. It is much easier to see you as a communist socialist now, much easier.

Poor old Carl, victimized by the evils of society. It's societies falt, isn't it Carl. Great big fucked up world where some crazy President sends hundreds of thousands of *your* friends and *my* friends, peoples moms, dads, family..you know how it is. And for what ? Well this is the "for what" Carl. Because when your friends left, for the last time possibly you got to say good bye, and I love you. You were given notice that they were called up to preform the honorable duty they chose to sign up for. Why does this matter ? Because if they didn't, and if they didn't (go) this time some kid, some teenage, someone will wake up one day and his family will be dead. His co-workers gone. Their childern murdered on the way to school. It's not fantisy play land to imagine terrorist acts in the US or anywhere for that matter. Am I being paranoid or have some not considered the *numbers game* & statistical probability here? Thousands, tens of thousands terrorist standing in the fucking desert around the world, no home, no government and lots of hate. Oh whats this ? Saddam Hussein wants to pay for fucking-murderers to kill innocent people, someone, anyone because they dont know how to be civil ? Because the people who control them feed them fudamentalist crap all their life ? Why do little kids want to dress up like suicide bombers and say things on tv like 'I want to kill the Jews', a 7yr old girl Carl, I swear I watched it with my own eyes. How ? How the fuck does this happen ? Breakdown in communication Carl, that's how it happens. Breakdown in communication = violence and we all know what that can equal. Now what, Saddam actively participates on the black market, this is known. The UN has been able to buy back stuff they gave him in other countries, where it shouldn't be. We'll money is the international language Carl and right now suite case nukes are going for oh lets make up a number, $15Million US.(suite case nuclear devices have been plenty feasable for over 20yrs now)

We'll osoma-bin-fuckhead has a money trail around the world, or he did until the US did something about it. So you see where this is going, Saddam needs/wants $, Saddam has illegal weapons to sell all we need now is a buyer. Do tell what kind of people buy illegal weapons on the black market ? These types of military weapons in specific. I'll tell you who, people who we dont want to fucking have them.

Why again Carl ? So another flight can land tomorrow, so my dad can come home from his job at the chemical plant tomorrow, so someones friends can come home from school, so I can come home from work Carl. So someones fucking Grandmother can come home from the store without some fucking deranged brainwashed fundamentalist freak with explosives, chemical weapons, biological weapons or nuclear weapons murdering them.

You've heard it a million times Carl, now that you've read the above try and hear me. The cost of inaction is far greater than the cost of action. Nobody wants it to be anybodies friends, reletives or family but there is no other way. Many different people have been trying for 13 years to get this madman to comply, and he will not.

"Oh Rory (my name btw) you fucking idiot whats the likely hood of a terrorist attack effecting you ? Less than getting hit by lighting !"

Well fuck you. My best friends dad lives in NY. Thousands of people who dont work in a particular building in NY walk infront of other buildings all the time. Just like in Houston(the area me & my family live and the city me & my mom work in), just like LA, just like Washington DC, just like any fucking major city all over the United States and anywhere else on earth the get they whim to strike. No declairing war, no precison guided weapons, no minimizing civilian deats, no 48hrs to get out of the country, no press briefings or UN visits, no 13years of knowing it will come, just fucking dead. You see how easy it is to be someone you know, are related to or care about ? Ever watch the Disney channel ? "It's a small world after all..." Some of the 'shit' you heard as a kid is true Carl, is it a small world after all.

And keep in mind I did not even touch on what atrocities Saddam has committed towards the Iraqi people. Once again someones mom, dad, child friend or relative. It's always going to be someone Carl the questions are : Who are really the good guys & bad guys ? Who do you want it to be(to go, to die) ? In a world that some have tried to turn into a infinite shade of 'gray' where something is only right when everyone decides, when something is only moral and just when a group of fucking sell outs like the UN get together and smack their rubber fucking phoney stamp on it. When the UN says it's ok to "be seized in the matter". Fuck the UN Carl, it's my friends & your friends that are going to clean up the UN's fucking 13 year mess right now Carl. We could of liberated the Iraqi people and solved this problem 13 years ago. So by all means, I'm begging you Someone mother fucking tell me how 2wars, 2 towers, thousands of people, billions of dollars, 54 resolutions, and immesurable suffering works better than doing the job once, right the first time. Do I think if Saddam was disarmed in 1991 September the 11th, 2001 would of gone different ? I think there is a pretty good chance.

Are you furious with me Carl ? Are you reaming your hands Commando ? Blazing mad I'd tell Carl all this ? Allow me to reiterate, point click read. They are all your choice.

Tell your friends someone they don't know thanks them if you get the chance Carl, and I hope you do.

ps. I'm not the worlds greatest speller, sue me.

[sgtheOne]"Oh Rory (my name btw) you fucking idiot whats the likely hood of a terrorist attack effecting you ? Less than getting hit by lighting !"

I used to think that. Until I became an eyewitness to the 9/11 attacks. The plane that hit the pentagon flew right by my window, low and close enough that I could see the people inside, and it rattled my walls. The section of the Pentagon that it hit was the very section that my girlfriend would have been standing in had she not been late to work that morning.

Granted living in a high profile place like Washington DC probably makes you more prone to seeing a terrorist event than most places, but an attack can come anywhere anytime. You may be flying to disneyworld for a vacation when your plane gets hijacked or blown up.

Reducing the daily fear of losing your life or the life of someone you care about is one of the main reasons to proactively stamp out terrorism.

Oh and I would much rather be sent to the front lines than have any type of cancer at all.

Blazer[sgtheOne]"Oh Rory (my name btw) you fucking idiot whats the likely hood of a terrorist attack effecting you ? Less than getting hit by lighting !"

I used to think that. Until I became an eyewitness to the 9/11 attacks. The plane that hit the pentagon flew right by my window, low and close enough that I could see the people inside, and it rattled my walls. The section of the Pentagon that it hit was the very section that my girlfriend would have been standing in had she not been late to work that morning.

Granted living in a high profile place like Washington DC probably makes you more prone to seeing a terrorist event than most places, but an attack can come anywhere anytime. You may be flying to disneyworld for a vacation when your plane gets hijacked or blown up.

Reducing the daily fear of losing your life or the life of someone you care about is one of the main reasons to proactively stamp out terrorism.

Oh and I would much rather be sent to the front lines than have any type of cancer at all.

never knew that happened to you. btw not even skin cancer? :twisted:

I've been dispelling anti-war lie's at <http://www.delphiforums.com> and let me tell you I got my hands full ! I spend hours refuting those twits. I use to play rene all night but over the past few days I've only played a few games if any at all. The truth is more important to me than some game where dumb fucks dont know how to work as a team the majority of the time therefore ruining my game.

Sir PhoenixxCarlSir PhoenixxDuke of NukesIt's amazing...you're all making fun of Carl for having emotions about his friends.

No, wrong again.

No one is making fun of him for having emotions :rolleyes: . He said his friends are going off to die, and when confronted about that statement, he tries insulting/flaming others, not really mature. Add to that, his last reply is flaming everyone on a discussion that ended a few posts up, before his previous reply.

And there's a difference between going on duty in a war, and cancer. You could have all the skill, intelligence, etc. in the world, and it won't save you from dying from cancer. I'm sorry to see that you think they're the same.

I Try insulting others? no not at all. I merely began combatting ill plcaed statements. FFS. HOW MANY TIMES DO I HAVE TO SAY EMOTIONAL OUTBURST. IT WAS AN EMOTIONAL OUTBURST THAT IS NOW PASSED. GET THE FUCK OVER IT. IT WAS ONE STATEMENT THAT I DIDNT EVEN FUCKING MEAN LIUKE YOU ARE TAKING IT< THAT WASS TYPED IN A FIT OF EMOTIONAL RAGE AND TEARS. GO FUCK OFF YOU LOW LIFE NO GOOD PIECE OF WHITE TRASH.

And again, this little discussion about you "writing off your friends as dead" ended prior to your last 2 replies. But you just can't seem to drop it, take your own advice, get over it.

Duke of Nukesso if my house is bombed tomorrow...or some guy breaks into my house while I'm asleep and kills me...that means I dont have the survival skills necessary? being KIA doesn't have anything to do with how bad you are...all the people that died on D-Day...were they just not skilled enough to make it? Did they all suck?

by you're logic...we still shouldn't be in Iraq because if they cant save themselves...why should we help them?

Lol dumbass...

I never said anything about them not being able to save themselves, I never said anything about if they die that they didn't have the necessary skills, I never said that being KIA meant that they're bad. Learn how to read dumbass.

You really think going on duty is even close to being similar to having cancer? Generally there is no cure to cancer, which means there is almost no way to avoid death.

It ended for you but obviopuusy not the other idiots replying. so if its over for you then stfu. i wasnt talking to you.
