Yeah, it'll be back. Once we got Blazer's desk moved in here, we realized that his desk is entirely too large for my small office. (I sacrificed small bedrooms for 2 large living rooms and a big kitchen when I bought my house) So, we're trying to find a new desk. Once that's done, all the other computers can come back online.

We are not married. Blazer moved in with me last November. In fact our one-year anniversary is on Thursday. Pathetic or romantic, we met on these forums when they were hosted by Westwood.

Also, where have you been??

Why do I get a feeling that the next post is going to be a point and laugh at Slicer?

Yea, Slicer doesn't pay much attention to things except MMN, new maps/mods, etc.

To be honest, I don't even know what the cheat people have been yelling about is called, except it causes big heads.

So yea Slicer doesn't have the greatest attention span because school is beating down on him.

Does BlazBot still have the timer for how long Blazer has been on Planet Crimson? I seem to remember something like that...

Anyhow, it'll be nice to see the sniper server back up. Even if I haven't really played on it for ages.
