Was actually pretty odd...

Everyone's CD was exploding at exactly the same time, like some big EA conspiracy to make you buy the game again.

wholy shit lol. i guess i wasnt around for that. So cd's were just exploding in drives?? why??? because the drive was to fast and cheap disk mabey??? lol i had renegade like 4 days after it came out but i didnt have a comp then but no prob because my grandma lives like next door so i figured id just install it on that with tib sun, tib dawn, and the red alerts but i couldnt becuase the comp didnt have enough ram or anything nearly so i read the manual 1000's of times wishing that i could get a new comp to play my fav game at ground level. I waited. I got a new comp 2.6 GhZ 512 MB RAM LCD 17" Flat screen and 80Gig hd and all i thought was RENEGADE. lol i woke up at 4:30 in the morning the day after i comp came and i hooked up internet and comp and all that stuff the night before installed renegade and went into my first game such a touching storie i can trace my precise moment of Ownege lol ummm how did i get on that subject i do not know.
