I have an idea for a mod, that I can't make.

It's similar to a TS mod but farther into the future. and instead of AGT theres IDU (Ion cannon Defensive satellite Uplink). it would look like a half dome with an antennea coming out of the top, but to one side. Nod characters would be raveslaw (brought back to life), Mendoza (unfrozen from the temple of nod), black hand stays the same (except weapons, and are all mutants/cyborgs(cyborg is alt.), anhiator (instead of sakura), and technician

The acronymn would be "ICDSU".

And it's called "The Advanced Communication Center".

By the way, the Ion Cannon is a slow firing mechanism. You can't just fire a super weapon like that every second. :rolleyes:

it's Ion cannon defensive satellite uplink, a mini ion cannon satellite, like a very large PIC in space, and the building dosen't fire it just tells the ICDS to shoot at the target. and your right it would be ICDSU, but iv'e never heard of advanced communication center.

That's the mini version of the Ion Cannon, if you didn't mean the real one, nevermind those last two comments.

If you did, it takes alot of time to charge a Ion Cannon for another attack.

(If your referring to real Command & Conquer.)

The Advanced Communications Center is what controlled the Ion Cannon in Command and Conquer.
