Aircraftk, would you be able to tell me how to edit the moon/sun size settings? or a way how you are able to resize them, if you could do this it will really help me.

Thanks,

Geno

Shouldn't this be on the DGN forums?

There's a whole section devoted to it.

I am positive that i have seen the sun/moon larger in 1+ of your maps, is it to do with the height of the map?

It's due to the Moon effect, which is what causes any celestial body, or any object on the horizon, to appear larger than it actually is... Much like a telescope will enlarge something, so will the Earth's atmosphere when an object is close to the horizon.

Amazingly, Renegade duplicates this effect from reality.

Don't be stupid.

They have a whole section devoted to asking Aircraftkiler questions, since this thread was addressed only to him it seemed more appropriate to be there and not here.

It wouldn't be more appropriate no matter where else he posted it. This is the mod forum, for asking questions and posting about mods/maps, his question was about how to change settings for the sun/moon in a MAP.

(Stupid? You never specified what the section was devoted to.)
