What do you mean by control it?

Like control it like a player controls a turret?

Yeah, you could also use the new PT script in the version 1.3 DLL when it arrives. It allows you to "poke" in multiplayer. So you can make your camera model and bone it like a vehicle turret and import to LevelEdit as a vehicle then simply setup a switch that when you poke you "enter" the camera and can rotate it with your mouse like a turret.
