Would it be possible to make a mod that made every official map (or even every map) have continuous rain like in C&C Tropics? And I don't mean a re-name of the map just maybe one that it only rained on your screen when you joined any server. Server hosts could add the map and for EVERYONE it would rain, how sweet would that be? Or if not, re-done WW levels with constant rain and a different name to em?

It would be very possible but I dont see the point.

Having to download 6 or 7 maps just for rain

Its easily do-able but as ferhago said, theres not much point spending an hour downloading everymap again just for a bit of rain um, k, I could, but I don't really see the point...

such a small change hardly seems worth it

Bleh.

Could do it, even if there's no point in doing it, seriously.

Assuming someone wasted their time adding rain into all the WW maps, what makes you think a decent server would host them? That would mean losing a lot of players, and for no reason. Besides, that would be annoying if it rained all the time.

I highly doubt anyone is going to do this for you. If you want rain you're gonna have to add it in yourself, but good luck finding someone to download and play your "rain maps."

If you can give me a good reason to do it, I would consider it... but just so you can dance in the rain... I think I will pass...

What if some one made a small program to patch the egsisting WW maps to have rain, That why you can join a game even if the host doesnt have the patched maps, and they just look nice with rain.

uhhhgggg, I already asked if it would just show on my client side, and someone said yes. So there would be no need for anyone to host it.

Rain can be cool if it is in a FanMap, but when it is in every map it sucks.

I find it difficult to play as Nod in maps that actually currently have rain in them. It seems like an ION beacon is ALWAYS about to blow. It freaks me out.

I know I'd play em! I'd even do the modding if someone told me how. I know how to add rain to my maps but I dont know how to do it to WW maps and client side to boot.

I love the Rain It's the COOLEST
