We try not to belive and make acusations but it looks like it is really comming. we try to stop it but its enevidable. It will my the 6th time a c&c game falls with the end, but this time westwood falls to. AFter all these falls we have a false sence of it comming back but it wont this time. um...your picture does not actually prove anything...

The fact that EA is acting as a download mirror for files does not prove that they are shutting down WOL...

Besides, you play Reborn on WOL, and a big company would never shut down an entire game's servers to make a whole set up for one mod...especially not with everyone acting in an angry, unsatisfied fashion about said mod...

A better idea would have been to post your "mate's" email...if your story is true, his e-mail would undoubtedly provide supporting evidence...
