I dunno if any of you have ran into this, but I keep accidentally typing renegademods.com instead of renegadeforums. I don't even know what is at renegademods but it's like drilled into my head. Anyhow, I was just trying to come here and I started typing renegademods, then switched mid word to come out with Renegademofos and I was like LOL so I attached the .com and away I went...

Microsoft says:
We can't find "www.renegademofos.com"

You can try again by typing the URL in the address bar above.
Or, search the Web:

I just thought that was so funny I'd share.

I think n00bstories.com already fills the void for a list of people that are hated.
