1.) Get a good connection and a video card (T1 the best, 56k the worst),(32 MB fair nuff, 256 the best)
2.) BE AWARE at the fact that the tank can move FORWARD and BACKWARD at the same speed
3.) TRY to stay on the sides of a vehicle (MRLS cant shoot you back if youre flanking it)
4.) If the tank is going to a particular direction to attempt to squish you, go to the opposite direction

5.) Check your six (your back) frequently
6.) Listen to sounds, if you hear a stealth tank, be alert
7.) provide a tip

I've found that you can usually fake off an APC by doing this:

constantly running back and right
when the tank gets close abruptly release back and right and hold left

just a tip*

I can outmanuever almost any driver by just going left/right as the situation demands, and then when they get really close, start jumping to the same direction as I'm running except a bit towards them. This rapid jumping allows easy flanking on even fast tread vehicles like APCs. It's only good for   them, though. This also often throws off gun turrets, especially when the driver is also the gunner [hint hint....teamwork = good...]

P.S. Having a good video card is pretty much a given for playing games that want a good FPS rate... :rolleyes:

- jump when they are close, to the side, you do not get squished mid air mostly, i think its a game flaw.

- do not switch weapons unless it is to time c4!!!! this is vary important because u slow down movement while switchin guns!

- use an anti-vech infantry, or just run or throw c4 in suicide atempt (unless u are a 100 char), Flamers will blind any driver, or sniper for that matter!, Nede launchers shoot in a perfect parabola, so make sure u did math! if u kill them, they dont kill you.

- standing still is bad, so is standing and reloading, i hae shoot many middle level untis in the head and kil them 1 shot many many times, often reloading, cause if u have a clear shot, they do too, tanks have the bigger gun, do the math!

-repair guns dont damage units, why must so so so many shot at opposing tanks with them! YOU LOST POINTS!

- one more tip, buggy's turn fast, try jumping the opposite dirrection of the wheels! Also most ppl dont know how to drive and shoot (well atleast well) so dont jump into the bullets.

pusshhhht you dont need a 9800 pro for renegade. you can run it with an 8meg card provided you have a fast cpu and good ram.

Also what is with dodging vehicles then getting run over and sliding along the floor to where the vehicle just was? That makes me mad.

Works well to run toward it, THROW your c4 with a jump and then hop off to the side. You may end up dieing but for solders, its good.

lmfao

I agree. I'm not gonna buy a new video card to avoid being squished once in a while...and what is the point of a new video card? It doesn't change the speeds or parameters of the vehicle, my tip is get the fuck away from a vehicle if it spots you! That simple!
