I thought this was the best place to ask, since most modders have used the XCC mixer. I'm talking converting soundtracks (.aud) into wav. Any help? When you right click on an aud, there's an option "Convert to WAV", but when I click it, it does absolutely nothing.

I'm so confused...

Use the VQA-AVI2 v1.35 Converter

Available at: <http://ra.afraid.org/html/downloads/utilities-4.html>

2nd one down the list

Converting .aud to .wav has nothing to do with XCC mixer. XCC just does the extracting and adding of files.

Although there is an option to convert, it doesnt actually work. Just extract the files and convert them with another app.

The app that Cwazyape suggested DID work, of course, I found out why I couldn't get the XCC mixer to work. There are TWO file list columns. You have to click and drag the second one out (THAT one is the directory that you are copying to). It automatically starts dragged closed.
hmmm....

You just right click the fiel in XCC and click "Copy as WAV" and it dumps it in the XCC directory or the directory you are in in the center window.
