maj.boredom pointed out this phpBB mod to me, so I went ahead and installed it. It allows you to ignore all posts by a certain user. Each post will be replaced with a message stating that the post is ignored, and you can click a link to override your ignore for a single post.

Enjoy.

Yes, the icon looks incredibly out of place. Looks like it got ripped out of another forum. But if you can change the icon, that's a cool little feature.

Crimson, add a link to http://www.renegadeforums.com/ignore.php either in the profile page or the nav bar up top so people can manage their ignore list.

How do you edit your ignore list.

For example you accidentally clicked on the wrong person and want to start reading their posts again.

Thanks,
Gib
