A site I coded in PHP, its not 100% perfekt but I hope everything works fine.

You can post all the funny stuff about the war you find at the web.

movies and other electronic arts which deal with the ongoing war and the events connected to it. The creator of this page specifically denies any responsibility for the content listed on this page. This page was not created to glorify the war or discredit anyone party involved. Its purpose is to entertain its visitors and only that.

I contributed...

Hey, add a jokes section... (for text jokes and QA jokes, etc.), have a text box to put a sample of the joke (if it's a long joke), or the joke (if it's a one liner or something), and have a text area to put the entire joke. If text was put in the "entire joke" text area than the sample appears as a link on the main jokes page, when the user clicks the link a window opens with the entire joke in it.

And take out the Add to Favorites thing when you right click, it's annoying, you can't look at the url of the image or save it.
