Im assuming it will always be a qkick until you get rid of whatever is dis-allowing you from joining.

A couple things..

- 1) We would notice a flood from that person.
 - 2) The FDS would detect a join flood and to a ban on them (temporary until server restart)

I am still confused about skins and how they will work with renguard or w/e. Can we still use normal skins???

I think normal skins are allowed, with the ones that give players unfair advantages blacklisted. However you won't be able to use ANY skins on a server running pure mode.

oooo then basicly just to be safe we should uninstall renegade so we have all the normal shit back, or if we dont what about the renginius skin that changezs the bullets and explosions thta one would it be detected as cheat because it makes the explosions look dif?

for call of duty Hermit created a programme called renpak that renames all CoD's custom map and skin .pk3 files to .hk3 so you dont get kicked from pure servers could'nt someone create a similar programme for renegade so all you have to do is click one button to change custom skin files so qkick doesnt happen

see hermitwares website here <http://www.hermitware.com/h-home.php>

just a suggestion maybe it will help

I don't think they should worry about that now, just get the program out.

Who cares if you may only use regular skins, as long as the game is cheaterfree ill be happy with my regular skins without fearing anyone may cheat.

The regular ren-skins arent that ugly
But id love my reticle to be allowed ^^:

^^ Agreed, as long as different reticles are allowed.
