When I go into the westwood lobby it shows that I have a 56k connection. Now the thing that tests the connection does not come up. How do I get it to test my connection again to see if it will bump my speed back up.

I think you can set speed on the popup menu on the left side under My Information. This is off the top of my head so I may be wrong.

the tested connection bit does not effect you unless your going to host a server but if you must change it to make your self feel better side bar open it

my information

->

look for "connection"

now you can either click "retest" or just select some higher one for your own sort of enjoyment..

*selecting higher will not make your connection faster.. it just allows you to host more then you should
