This is beyond a joke now. You wait all night for WOL to come back on line and before you know it a message saying.

WARNING!!!!

WOL is shutting down
Reason - Server Crash
BTW this has nothing to do with our Windows 95 PC's.

That is what it is like now though as soon as you are on you are off again this is why I am on this site wasting my time typing this shit. If you agree with me please post here I want to get my point out so that they might actually do something (unlikely but I may as well try).

Cya please Reply

If it's down my server will be moving to XWIS as well as quite a few others, It wont be too big of a blow to the ren community. I'm actually looking forward to it because XWIS is much more responsive.

We are the forgotten C&C fans, EA doesnt think of us at all, so therfore that could care less about our Renegade server, they probobly use it for a chair in their cofee room.

Suggestion: Make a sticky topic that has to do with WOL being down because every time WOL goes down (seems to be too often as well) there are like 5 new threads that pop up, for example, this one.
