I have a question:

It began so: when i want to get in the server i got automatical banned!!!

So I got in with other account and ask the mod

He rebanned my normal acc domsch666 so I wanted to get in the server with it. But than it happened the same and I got banned.....

Im guessing here, but I think I have a good idea.

You see, when people do stupid things often times they get banned. Im guessing here, with no doubt about it, that you did something stupid. Administrators and Moderators do not just ban your account name, they often times ban your IP address. That is why you can't get on with different account names.

If you don't understand what you did, try posting in the correct forum for this.

Then they must have just have banned your account name. or is this a problem with every server you try to connect to?

it means he kicked you from the server, he removed from being able to play on it. it's temporary, unlike a ban.

I think he means (not sure, havn't played in a while) that you need to wait until they get another server up and play on that or wait until they reset the server.

You don't just get Automatically banned whether you have done bad or not. You get banned after or during the game. If only one account was banend, then it's only a tempory bann and will soon be un-banned (I guess) and other account will work. If it is IP Ban then no accounts will work and most probably will be perminant. But after the server restarts noone will be banned. Not even IP's.

So during the game you must have said something out of the ordianry or used cheats... The automatic KICK not ban will only take place when you try to RE-Join.....
