Renguard will stay running when you close Renegade. Look in the system tray near your computer clock, you should see the icon there. Quit it before running Renegade again.

One thing you can try is to hit ctrl+alt+del once to open the task menu and see if it's still running in there. If so, just close it via that menu.

what happens to me when i build my data folder back i added 1 dds file it accepted it then the next accepted that then 3rd didnt like it so i deleted it then restart ren then the two files i put in there bfore it started to not like them and the last one i had to delete was the agt pct screen heres is the pic

at the bottom

i have alot of skins and so do alot of ppl should be a way for ppl to send in the skins so the team can look at them and make updates thx team for making renegade a fair game to play now

Skins (aka textures) are allowed in most servers without a problem. But if you play in a PURE MODE server, you will be kicked. Pure mode means that you are not allowed any .TGA or .DDS files (screen shots don't count).

If you have skins that end in TGA or DDS, they won't be a problem. W3D's have to be submitted to us.
