Some server I joined do not have Renguard enabled although their server name like "[BR] [RG] Bla" said so.

The problem is: whenever cheaters appear on this kind of servers, Renguard is blamed for not blocking the cheats. We dont need that kind of negative publicity...

Whats missing is a command, that displays the current running Renguard version. Maybe an idea for future versions Or is there already a command I dont know of?

I will be adding a server listing, and also we're considering an audio alert when you enter a protected server.

You should also make the keyboard LED's flash and have the monitor change resolutions 890 times. That will grab some attention.

Sorry for this Uber, the server FanMaps is from jessica and she didnt want RenGuard on it until Sunday so i had to disable it.
I forgot to update the server title. I fixed it now Sunday (tomorrow) RenGuard will be on it again in Pure mode.

The reason for this was because everyone got kicked so Jessica wanted to give people a chance to download RenGuard until Sunday.
I tried to talk her out of it saying that as long as servers are NOT running RG people will continue to join these servers instead of downloading RG. But that didnt work so sorry hi zunnie, I dont talk about that specific server, but more in general. But thanks Yes, I somehow refuse to run the servers without RG, otherwise we have the effect you described. People join the other servers and dont download RG. So lets fight against.
