(Me and my shenanagins)

Jonwil is a man that is on the blackhand studios team and has made scripts for just about every fan map you've played that has something special in it. Without this man, we wouldn't have the current technology for modifications that we have today! He has worked on several major modifications. Almost every renegade player has been effected by his wonderful work.

So today I say is officially Johnathon Wilson Appreciation Day!
Leave pleasant comments for one of the men/women that made renegade what it is today!

Jon Wil rocks!

Half of me wants to beat you up for dishonoring the drink, the other half is happy because it knows it's Pepsi is safe.....

That is why I will give you 10 seconds to run like heck before I start chasing after you with my heat-seaking missile launcher.....

If anyone asks, you didn't hear this from me.

Mountain Dew and vodka go brilliantly together. That shit is good, I think I had a little too much last time, errr, I mean, If I was to drink it I probably would have too much. Yeah, errr, that's it!

I've never drunk, since I'm under 15, but my cousin says being sober is often more fun at parties than being drunk. It's a lot of fun to play with drunk people.

EDIT:

Oh yeah,

IF IT'S STILL THE 18th, HAPPY JONWIL DAY!
