And soon your server will be filling up again.

[13:11] [@Crimson]: !gi

23 players, not too shabby. If you want to enforce your server with RenGuard, you have to stick to your guns. If you "wimp out" and turn off RenGuard protection because "no one" is downloading it, you're not giving anyone a reason TO download it.

There have been over 4500 successful installations of RenGuard so far. Idle in your own server if you have to in order to get other people in the game (most people don't like to sit in an empty server waiting for an opponent)...

We also have an upgrade scheduled in about 5 hours from now (6PM PST April 14th, 2AM GMT April 15th)... which should clear up the problem with people being told they don't have RenGuard when they do.

And if you're still running SSC 1.0 or BRenBot 1.33, UPGRADE NOW to help resolve the issues that came out this last week.

I'm not feeling any pinch. My fan map server was only up for a few days because it was on a box scheduled for decommission and when said decommission occurred, it went offline. I think fastc0nn/RenStation fills the fan map niche quite nicely and I don't see a need to compete with that.

RenGuard can't possibly cause people to lag unless their computer is stuck in the stone age. We have over 4500 successful installs, you're just reading about the problems here because you don't tend to post if everything is working fine.

Keep pushing my buttons. No one wants you here, so don't force me to make you leave. Just take the hint.

Do EVERY ONE of your posts have to have a swear word or a flame towards someone else?

Usually people have to make fun of people by saying they have "short comings," but that's usually in response to them having a short coming.

Just because I wanted to have a civil debate to keep flaming off of these forums, you decide you can flame me for wanting to debate. You are making fun of that because you know that you would lose so quickly so the only thing you know how to do is flame that idea.

You havn't been in NFD_Public so shut the fuck up. And since you've been living under a rock, NFD is just a membership saying that we hate you and other fucktards.

Not likely. Nothing has happened that I didn't expect. Even you and other cheaters feeling threatened and trying to sway public opinion.

I don't what you say or don't say, but I see your hand in everything renegade and I'm quite frankly sick of it. I don't like the RG network having control over my servers, reading my server logs, knowing eveything about my ini's and then broadcasting that information to a central base. Not to mention Global messages and what not.

Let me make 1 thing clear, RG is a good app, RG network is not, I have no intentions of other people having access to my servers, without my permission. Which is why I won't be running RG unless it is de-centralized from the RG network.

Wow, you're really paranoid, aren't you?

It's not a dying plea. RenGuard is far from dying. However, there are SOME people with the opinion that they will "wait until RenGuard is more popular" before running it, without realizing that it won't get popular unless they do.

It's not because RenGuard doesn't work, it's because people won't download it unless their favorite servers are running it.

And my servers are proof of this. They are starting to pick up, just like everyone else will experience.

I have to agree with Alk on this one topic I like control over MY server that is why I pay for MY server!!! I, and only I, want to know about what goes on in MY server! I don't want MY game information going to someother jackasses server! So that is MY reason for not running renguard!! That first part doesn't make sense - did you mean "I don't care"? :rolleyes:

alkaline

Let me make 1 thing clear, RG is a good app, RG network is not, I have no intentions of other people having access to my servers, without my permission. Which is why I won't be running RG unless it is de-centralized from the RG network.

Look, no-one is forcing you to use Renguard, it is a clear choice by both the client and the server owner. The RG network is there to enforce bans from things like tampering and the like... an extra layer of protection. It means that users that have been tampering with the client stay banned from the game-servers with Renguard enabled.

How is that not a bad thing?

Alkaline I don't like the RG network having control over my servers, reading my server logs, knowing eveything about my ini's and then broadcasting that information to a central base. Not to mention Global messages and what not.

If you don't like it, don't use it. Most of that information can be retrieved one way or the other. I trust the Renguard crew to act responsibly if they have access to that information and besides if they abuse it - you can always remove it. Besides they probably need some of that information to confirm you are in the game AND logged into the renguard network.

Quote:

You still have CONTROL in your server, You STILL pay for your server. I seriously doubt Renguard is an application which is designed so the Renguard crew can sit there all day WATCHING and CONTROLLING your server - if you haven't NOTICED its an anticheat. If you don't want your previous information used to check what players are in game and compare them to users logged in on Renguard... then don't use it!

Crimson, I know you try to be nice and all, but Alkaline is like a really bad cancer. No matter how much therapy you go through, it keeps coming back and the only alternative is to have it removed surgically.

Or you could look at it this way, he's like a non-cancerous tumor. Doesn't matter if it is life threatening, it's still better to have it removed than to have to keep dealing with it until it does become a problem.

If you honestly think that the Renguard team gives two shits about your server, then don't run it. But, don't come here spouting your crap. In case you haven't figured it out, nobody here likes you. The only reason Crimson hasn't banned you is because she is too nice. If I ever see you in anything I run, or have a say in, you'll be instantly banned. The server admins still have full control over their servers, they can kick, qkick, ban, change maps, send admin messages, send messages, page, shutdown, restart etc etc. You are somewhat claiming that Renguard removes that ability. There are a number of reasons why it is centralized and we have been over them time and time again - yet you don't listen to the valid points.

Somewhat you, one person with his mighty servers represents the entire community so if you have a problem with Renguard - don't use it, the RenGuard team are not saying "All your servers belong to us, you MUST install Renguard now", they are simply providing a means of keeping cheaters OFF your servers and other servers. Many servers have it installed or are preparing for it, and they will enjoy having cheat free games.

Though that same IP thing was a bit funny :rolleyes:

Try_leel just want to know...

Alkaline, how exactly does RenGuard supposedly remove full control of servers from the people that pay to run them?

Do you not realize, they have access to any FDS command on your server? They monitor who is playin on which server, they probably know your FDS remote login passwords, server configs, and what maps you are running. Why should you be required to give all this information to them? Why can't you just run RG directly between you and your clients. There is no NEED for a central Network, only reason its there because it wants to have info from all servers.

If you feel comfortable giving crimson the power to mointor everything that goes on in your server, feel free. I just don't think I'm going to let that happen.

Amazing, anyone disagree with these idiots, and they assume its the same person. With power trip mods as the admins they edit post to make it sould like they know wtf is going on.

If this isn't enough evidence for you that RG is just another control toy, and will be abused by cramson, I'm not sure what is. Now your only being edited and screwed with on the forums, with RG, you'll be screwed with on your own server :rolleyes:

I can't read half this shit...It just makes me so angry. These UN fucktards come in here acting like they know every God damn thing about how we are. Because we defend the owner of these forums, we must be kissing her ass. And because we don't like dickheads like Alkaline, we have 3 inch penises.

NEWS FLASH: We don't like you because you are morons and defend your buddies when you know they are WRONG. If xptek or anyone else I chat with does something wrong I don't go and defend them to the point of where I have to flame every last one who disagrees with him.

I am tired of seeing your shit and so is everyone else, please Crimson, for you and the rest of us, BAN THE FUCK OUT OF THEM!!!!!!!!!!!!

They have no place here, we try to be civil and it becomes impossible in a thread where these morons post. I actually thought God Of Death was somewhat civil until I read his "OMG I LIKE GUYS' ASSES AND I LICK THEM EVERY DAY AFTER I GET DONE HUMPING SOMEONE ELSE!!!!!!!!!!!!" post. UN are nothing but a bunch of maggot festering, camel humping, absolutely ridiculous assholes.

Edit: Scrumfy, I said make fun of their "short comings," hence small penis size. I didn't say calling someone a homosexual. You are becoming more and more like Alkaline by the post. Maybe being in bondage with him is making your mind corrupt.

Congradulations retarded FOOKerm guess what OZ plays more on UN servers then their own, perhaps they can't stand your constant bitching in the game, good thing you left UN because the entire clan wanted you retarded constant bitching ass out. THE minute you lost admin rights you were out. Good we need to clean the trash every now and then :rolleyes:

NOt to mention half of your clan can't even get renguard running... Invader was here and posted a lovable solution to RG, perhaps your stupid ass would be wise to do it as well.

As for renguard, HAD IT BEEN A SOLID WORKING PROGRAM, WHICH IT ISN'T :rolleyes: I would be using RG :rolleyes: He RG network centralized bullshit is not something i'm about to tolerate, however, we'll fight OZ if you want, and play on your renguard server, but most likely half of the players won't be able to join because stupid ass RG network will say we don't have it running, or won't even start up in the first place.

AlkalineXptekAlkaline....READ.

Read what, I just found out the template deisgner is a 1 man team, LOL... you retarded liar man. Just stfu and stop your bullshit.

Ya, this is the same guy that designed all the templates for liquid2d.com, and this is what he makes for his own server site:

<http://www.jitterjunction.com/a11site/news.php>

:rolleyes:

a standard builtin template, and the only thing he adds is a stupid strip of text to the banner

:rolleyes:

As I've told you before, it was once a 2 man team. I designed 1-50. I'll be customizing my site with a theme soon. This is just a temporary theme untill I get some time.

I found the name "Cram son" offensive, so I used the word censoring capabilities of phpBB to change it to a less offensive word or phrase.

I fail to see how "Deleted" under your nick is an abuse of power. It doesn't even insult you.

I didn't disclose your IP, merely that it matched someone else. Not an abuse.

And I think Kerry is an assrammer... how does that constitute abuse of power? It's POWER that I have $9 to register a domain with GoDaddy?? C'mon... that's not even related to the forums.

And disabling your PMs was fun. I should have banned you long ago. You have 4 other accounts you can send PMs from anyway.
