Adnecles1 dsl straight from the modem

So you're using Windows to connect to your DSL, that's RAS.. okay.. will look for a solution.

Also, what OS are you running? If Windows XP, what service pack?

Ok, I'm running on the same system as Adnecles & I reinstalled RG, I went to launch it, worked fine, then it did an auto-update & now it keeps crashing about 5 secs after the window first comes up. I even had someone witness it cuz it's kinda eerie.

For some reason it worked fine on my Windows2000 comp but neither of my XP systems, both of which are SP1.

Plz help

I have the same system specifications and the same problem... looks like this bug only exists for XP users with DSL... well that would be rather many persons then :S

But it DOES work! After 20mins or so, althrough Windows tells u that it crashed.

No worries, I know that the RG team will work to fix this as fast as they possibly can

I've done the same, so don't think you're the only one, believe in the RG team & they will get it fixed, just give them some time

Actually, here's an idea, it works too, I just noticed it The solution
